

JESSOPS.com

Technology
from Pixology

INTERNET PRINTING

Yet again we are at the forefront of digital technology with the introduction of a new fantastic developing & printing service for our customers: Internet Printing.

Internet Printing allows our customers to take advantage of our printing services by simply e-mailing their images direct to Jessops. Once the images have been received on our web site they are then sent to our laboratory at Hinckley Road. There, they are processed using our Fuji digital printers and printed on Fuji crystal archive paper. When the image is processed, it is then sent back to the customers home address, it's as simple as that!

This service costs the same as normal developing & printing and postage to our customers is free.

To prove to you what it can do, this sheet has been processed via the new Jessops Internet Printing Service. As you can see, the photographic quality is maintained.

Another great service offered by us! Who said technology needs to be complicated?

To see for yourself; visit the Jessops stand or our web site at www.jessops.com

